Focus on Family. Connect With Community.

Spend Time Together As A Family! As the seasons change and the academic year winds down, we hope you will take some time this evening to reflect on all of challenges you have overcome as individuals and as a family, and your ability to develop resilience. Building strong, positive relationships with loved ones and friends can provide you with needed support in good and bad times. Make this day, and every day, meaningful for your family. Take care of yourself and each other and stay connected with your community. Research shows that there are benefits to spending time together as a family including increased academic success, risk-reduction for substance abuse, and strengthening your family's bond.

Here are some ideas to get you started!

Dinner Together: Plan a meal and cook it together (or take advantage of the offers below!).

Try these conversation starters with your little ones—and not so little ones.

Game On: Play your child's favorite game!

Volunteer Together: Plan for a future family community service project.
