

“The Risky Business of Parenting”

Worried about getting a late night call about your tween or teen? Teens are hard-wired to take risks, but how do you combat these natural impulses?

Wednesday, March 16th at 7-8:30PM
Emerald Campus 1st Floor and live stream
Thursday, March 17th at 9:30-11AM
Dublin Recreation Center Tallas Room

- Dr. Jess Shatkin, MD, MPH, author of “Born to be Wild: Why Teens Take Risks and How We can Help Keep Them Safe” brings more than two decades’ worth of research and clinical experience on this subject.
- Understand why tweens and teens take risks, what drives their decision making and learn practical advice and skills about what parents, educators and the community can do differently to keep our kids safe.
- Learn evidence-based parenting strategies to use with young children that will help raise resilient and less risky kids.

Dr. Jess Shatkin, MD ,MPH is a Professor of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Pediatrics at NYU School of Medicine. Dr. Shatkin has been featured in the New York Times and the Wall Street Journal and is the host of “About Our Kids” a 2 hour call-in radio show on Sirius XM.

